NOVED SHOT TO KILL. Two Marines Who Had Recently Enlisted Left the Navy Yard by Stealth to Have a Good Time-Returning, They Met the Italian, Who

Shot Them Both, Killing One Instantly. Edward Pierce and John Costigan, two young men who entisted in Company H of the United States Marine Corps a month ago, climbed over the Brooklyn Navy Yard wall after answering roll call on Tuesday night and made a tour of the resorts on the Bowery. They started back to the Navy Yard at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. On the way they talked loudly for the benefit of all the persons in the cabin of a Catherine street ferryboat. The boat landed at Main street, Brooklyn, at 140 o'clock. The marines remarked that they were going abroad in a few weeks to kill Chinese, and they poked fun at a sleepy Chinaman An elderly, dark-skinned man shuffled against the marines about this time and one of them remarked that he was a Spanish "dago."
"We killed hundreds of them down at Santiago," said the marine. The man referred to was an Italian. Luigi Lougubuco was known to the deckhands of the boat, for he owned a small store on Main street for many years. The store being only a block from the ferryhouse, the ferry employees were in the habit of buying fruit and tobacco there. So, when the marines referred to Lougubuco as a "dago," two of the deckhands replied that the man was not a Spaniard, but an Ralian. The Italian had been visiting friends in New York. leaving his wife and three children in the store. The Italian was in a cross mood and scowled at the marines when they were leaving the boat. All three walked up Main street within a few feet of each other. They were in a heated argument when they stopped in front of the Italian's store at 47 Main street. When the marines started up the street Lougubuco stepped Into his doorway. A second later from the doorway came two pistol shots and both ma-

Frederick Bullwinkle, a milkman of Seventy-fifth streeth and Eleventh avenue, Brooklyn, serving his route, was climbing down from his wagon within a few feet of where the marines fell. He saw the Italian dart into a hall. Quickly dropping his milk pall Bullwinkle went to the assistance of the marines. One of them, Costigan, staggered to his feet and ran around the corner. Leaning over the other Bullwinkle said that the man had been shot in the left breast. While Bullwinkle was trying to lift the injured man, Policeman Hayes and Elder of the Fulton street station appeared "The man who did it is in that hall," said Bullwinkle. Peliceman Hayes summoned an ambulance and Elder went in search of the man who did the shooting. He found Lougubuco hiding in a woodshed in a rear yard. The Italian deniedall knowledge of the shooting. Several cartridges were found in his pockets. They fitted a revolver that was picked up later in the rear yard. Two of the chambers of the revolver were empty.

"Two shots were fired," explained the milkman. "One of them must have hit the marine who ran around the corner."

Ambulance Surgeon Price, who came from the Brooklyn Hospital, found Plerce dead. He said the marine had been shot through the heart. Plerce's body was taken to the Fulton street police station and later to the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The police reserves from the Fulton street station were sent out to search for Plerce's companion. At 4 o'clock in the morning Roundsman Kiernan found a man in the uniform of a marine sleeping in a lot on Flint street, near York street.

"Wake up," said the roundsman. The marine set on his feet and the roundsman asked him if he had witnessed the shooting of a fellow comrade. He said at first that he knew nothing about it.

rade. He said at first that he knew nothing about it.

'Why,' said the roundsman, raising the man's arm, 'you're shot in the shoulder.'

Then the marine admitted that he was Costigan and that he had been shot by the same man who shot Pierce. He was taken to the Brooklyn Hospital where the doctors said his wound might result in death. Police Sergeants Kelly and O'Connor took Lougubuco to the hospital and there, in the presence of Coroner Berger, Costigan identified the Italian as the man who had shot him and killed Pierce. Later in the day Lougubuco was arraigned in the Adams street police court and committed to Raymond street jail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Pierce was 27 years old and enlisted at Buffalo on June 14. At that time he said his nearest living relative was Mrs. J. Wren of Milton, Cumberland county, England. Costigan enlisted at Buffalo on June 25. Col. Pope, in command of the Marine Corps in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, said that neither Costigan nor Pierce had been in the service before their enlistment last DOLLAR TO PROVIDENCE BY BOAT War on the Sound Stimulates Trave -End of It Not in Sight.

The war of rates which has been going or for some time between the steamboat lines psying between this city and Providence has had the not unusual effect of stimulating travel cording to the reports of the agents of the lines. The companies do not like to call it a war of rates but the form their competition has taken is generally so denominated. General Passenger agent arnold of the loy Steamship Company says that his company established itself because it thought that there was a place for it here and that it could make money legitimate'v. There was no desire he said. to develop antagonism to the New York New Haven and Rartford Railroad Company, which controls all the other steamer lines as well es the ralway lines entering New England from here. Mr. atnoid said that his company from here. Mr. Athold said that his company fixed a rate of $1.75 for passenger transportation between this city and Providence as sufficient for a reasonable profit.

After the Joy company had been carrying people for some time at that price, generously hoping all the time, Mr. Arnold says, that the New York, New Haven and Hartford people would continue to do all the business they would continue to do all the business they could do, the railway company put on an extra Providence boat, the Massachusetts, advertising it to carry passengers to Providence for 1. It became necessary then for the Joy company to meet this rate, which it has done, and passengers can now travel to Providence by either line for 11. The Massachusetts does not go under the dollar rate, charging that price for transportation either way, but the Joy company sells a round-trip ticket for $1.50. Both lines are doing a good business at the very cheap rate.

The odd feature of the war is that the regular Providence line steamers are carrying their rull quota of passengers daily at the regular rate of $3. It is not asserted that they are running to their rull capacity, but they are carrying average loads each night. The Massachusetts, the agents say, is carrying 500 and 600 passengers nightly, all of whom, with the passengers carried by the Joy company's boat, seem to be people who have been stirred up to travel by reason of the cheap fare. Many of them, of course, come from cities in New Enziand beyond Providence. The Joy company says that $1 does not pay, but that the company expects to continue to meet competition as long as may be necessary. The New York, New Haven and Hartford people say that whether or not there is a profit in handling Providence passengers at $1 per head hinges upon the number carried. Neither line is willing to say that the end of the rate war is in sight.

LIGHTNING HITS A SILVERITE.

He Had a Lot of White Coin in His Pocket and Attributes His Mishap to That.

LOOMFIELD, N. J., July 25 .- During a violent thunderstorm here to-night a ball of fire careened along the sidewalk on Montgomery street for two blocks and across the Morris Canal bridge to Walnut street, where it exploded with a loud noise. James Mulligan, a farmer, 73 years old, had just left his home and was or his way to the centre of the town when the ball exploded in front of him. He declares that it struck his feet and that he lay unconscious across the picket fence in front of the home of William Roworth for nearly half an hour. Mr. Roworth found him there. Mr. Mulligan says that he saw the ball of fire coming toward him, but was unable to get out of its way. He was sent home in a carriage, suffering greatly from shock.

KILLED A TRUANT MARINE, PEARLS FROM THE SCALES OF A FISH. A Scheme to Utilize the Alewives, Which Teem

by the Millions in Lake Ontario. ROCHESTER, July 25 .- A pearl manufactory s among the possibilities of the immediate future for Rochester, with scales taken from the small fish known as alewives, which are extremely plentiful in Lake Ontario, as the raw material. The idea seems preposterous, but it is being treated very seriously by serious men of influence. United States Fish Commissioner Chester K. Green, who is now at Windsor Beach recently made some remarks to a reporter regarding the plans of M Leuret of France for such a manufactory and suggested (harlotte, the port of Rochester, as a desirable site. John M. Ives, Secretary of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, t ok up the matter, secured samples of cales from live alewives from Commissioner Green, and enclosed them in a communication sent to-day to the Hon. John C. Covert. United States Consul at Lyons, France, Covert. United States Consul at Lyons, France, with a request that he place the specimens in the hands of M. Leuret, who is a clitzen of Lyons, and hopes here run high that the scales will prove of such a quality as to confirm M. Leuret in his reported determination to come to this country and manufacture pearls from the scales of a fish. The alewive, which are now absolutely worthless, teem by the millions in the lake and are a dangerous nulsance at times by mysteriously dying in large numbers and decomposing on the lake shore, where extraordinary steps have frequently had to be taken to bury them to prevent the contamination of the atmosphere.

MOUNTAIN SKY IS DEAD.

Flying Cloud. Her Son, Will Be at the Funeral To-day.

Mrs. Mary Fraser, a noted Mohawk Indian woman 51 years old, died yesterday morning in the city hospital, Blackwell's Island, where she was taken on April 23 suffering from cancer. The burial will be to-day after funeral services at Merritt's undertaking rooms, Nineteenth at Merritt's indertaking rooms, Natereith at Merritt and Eighth avenue, at 10 o'clock under direction of Mrs. Harriet Maxwell Converse. The interment will be at Mount Olivet and when cold weather comes the remains will be taken to the Grand River Reservation in Canada.

Mrs. Fraser was of the Bear Clan of the Mohawks. Her Mohawk name was Ka-ron-io-reta, meaning Mountain Sky. Her father was a chief. In her younger days Mrs. Fraser did beautiful beadwork and was known as a skilled maker of Indian costumes. She married a chief of the tribe. Later she became an actress and toured with several dramatic companies, last with which she was connected being Gowon-go-mohawk's. That actress is here and will attend the funeral. Mrs. Fraser's son, Joseph Fraser, of Oshwekin, Canada, is also here. His Indian name is So-na-so and it means A Flying Cloud. Stephen Merritt will preach the funeral sermon. Mrs. Fraser was a Methodist. She underwent two operations at the city hospital, before each of which she took holy communion. She was a perfect specimen of the full-blooded Mohawk. Mrs. Converse said yesterday that the back of her head gave evidence of the use of the "baby board" to which she was strapped when an infant. street and Eighth avenue, at 10 o'clock under

WESTERN FIREMEN GOING TO PARIS. Kansas City's Champion Team Arrives Here

-Won International Honors in 1893. Chief George C. Hale and fourteen members of the Kansas City Fire Department arrived in this city yesterday on their way to the Paris Exposition, where they will compete in the great international firemen's tournament, Chief Hale and a picked team from Kansas City, including some members of the present team, won the World's Prize in London in 1893. and their work attracted the notice of the Prince of Wales. Fourteen wealthy citizens of Kansas City accompany the party this time. They will sail on Saturday on the Anchor liner Furnessia, taking with them a fine new engine, especially built for this trip, three of the best horses in the Kansas City Fire Department, scaling ladders, hose and a jumping net.

The team has been in training for more than a year. Its expenses, which it is expected will amount to $15,000, are being defrayed by the Kansas City Merchants Club, the members of which hope that the team will succeed in beating the turning out record of eight and a half seconds made in 1893. After the Paris tournament the team will give exhibitions in England, Scotland and Ireland.

Chief Hale has been at the head of the Kansas City Fire Department for twenty years. He is known as the inventor of a water fower, a swinging harness and a phonograph fire alarm. Before he left home the citizens of Kansas City presented to him a diamond studded shield costing $3,000. sas City accompany the party this time. They

and F. W. Lang. Inspector.

ROCHESTER, July 25.-What is believed to be a gigantic system of customs frauds was un-earthed here to-night when warrants were issued for the arrest of Edwin T. Hickey, tobacco dealer and Democratic State Committeeman, for the Forty-third district, F. W. Lang, customs inspector, and Austin Rush, a cartman. Rush is the only one under arrest as yet. The men are charged with frauds and violations of the customs laws in a dozen particulars, the penalty for each one of which is $500 fine. The specific charge is that the Government was defrauded out of about $10,000 in revenue about May 24, when twenty-five cases of tobacce, valued at $4 a pound and on which the duty is $1.80 a pound, was co signed to Hickey Brothers from Cuba through New York city, in bond. It is alleged that through the connivance of Inspector Lang the tobacco was transferred from the freight office to the Custom House by Rush, who is not a bonded cartman, and that in transit the extensive tobacco was removed from the cases and a very inferior article substituted, which was appraised as the cheaper grade. Nineteen of the cases were subsequently sent to Hamilton, Canada, by Hickey, and a search of his warehouse at 82 Mill street disclosed the remaining six cases, filled with the cheap goods. The men are charged with frauds and violations

MIRACLES EXPECTED TO-DAY

When the Relic of St. Anne Is Applied Directly to the Lame, the Halt and the Blind. To-day the lame, the halt and the blind who have been attending daily at the shrine of St. Anne in the little French-Canadian church of St. Jean Baptiste in East Seventy-sixth street will assemble there in their hundreds for the final step in the novena, or nine days' devotion which began on July 17, in the hope of being miraculously cured. That last step will be the direct application of the relic of the saint which heretofore they have only seen through the glass cover of its case, to the part of the body afflicted. The relic was applied yesterday afternoon to some hundreds, but to-day is the great day, as it is the feast day of St. Anne, when miracles are expected.

feast day of St. Anne, when miracles are expected.

There will be masses at 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 o'clock at the church to-day. Priests from Canada are present to assist the regular parish staff. Last night the little church was ablaze with candles lighted by devotees, the candelabra before the shrine not being able to hold more than a fraction of them.

Petitions to St. Anne were read from the altar by the officiating priest, so that all might join in the prayer of each. "For my husband, good St. Anne, that he may get a job," "that my son may give up the drink and the politicians," for my brother in the Philippines," that my gentleman friend may turn Catholic; "to give me back my sight;" to hear from my sister Ellen;" "may my daughter be safe from all danger when she works," "so that I may choose for the best when I am asked to marry; "that I may get a piano," were some of the petitions. After which the benediction was given and the congregation went up the centre assle sing-ing a hymn to St. Anne, of which one couplet "The sick, the afflicted, the lame and the blind, The suffering, the erring, all solace here find."

LITTER OF 17 PUPPIES. Jim Corbett's Pet Collie Gives Birth to a Very

Corbett's white collie Rose gave birth to seventeen puppies on Tuesday morning in Corbett's apartments, Thirty-fourth street near Eighth avenue. Corbett val-ues Rose at $1,500, and he felt very Joyous at such a remarkably large litter. When he returned from the races on Tuesday night he found that only fifteen Tuesday night he found that only fifteen pups were left. He thought that somebody was stealing the puppies. Yesterday morning another puppy was gone. Then Corbett lost patience and hired a man to watch the mother and puppies until he returned home at night, dust before Corbett got home the watchman saw Rose kill one of the puppies.

When Corbett was informed of this he took the remaining thirteen puppies away from the mother. The youngsters are all strong enough to be brought up on the bottle.

REAL ESTATE NEWS.

Another proof that building material prices are no longer a deterrent to constructions work in neighborhoods where renting conditions are normal is afforded by the circumstance that John T. Williams is about to erect a twelve-story loft building at No. 114 to 118 Liberty street, be tween Trinity place and Greenwich street. The site fronts seventy feet two inches on Liberty street and forty-five feet on Cedar street. Plans for the new structure are being drawn by John T. Williams, Jr., and will be submitted to the Building Department in a week or two, when the work of tearing down the old buildings on the ground will be begun. Mr. Williams took title to No. 118 Liberty street last week. Nos. 114 and 116 Liberty, running through to No. 119 and 121 Cedar were acquired in February from Alfred Wagstaff in part payment for the new six-story building Nos. 274 and 276 Church street.

Mr. Williams's undertaking, coupled with other recent projects downtown, suggests the conclusion that the renewed building activity which is certain to result from the present tendency of the material market will be directed more especially to the production of mercantile instead of residential housing, with the consebeen long neglected will develop considerable brokerage activity. Indeed, one important sale in the financial district has been effected by a leading Broadway brokerage house, the details of which will not be made known before the passing of the title, about the middle of

A building project also of a wholesome kind in its bearing on the real estate market is planned for Nos. 2 to 6 East Broadway, covering the block front between Catharine street and Chatham Square. Morris Schidlovski, clock manufacturer, who proves to be the buyer of the premises, the sale of which by Eugene F. O'Connor was recently reported, will erect a six-story store and loft building designed for light manufacturing. The existing structure has been used as a lodging house. There is good East Side authority for the belief that Bowery and adjacent property will be in increasing demand for manufacturing purposes of the kind to which lofts are adapted. Nos. 227 and 229 West 116th street, a six-story apartment house, with store, or a plot 40x100, has been sold by William S. Long. Nos. 7 and 9 East Forty-sixth street, two five-story dwellings altered into a Turkish bath house, has been leased for a term of years to the Windsor Ar ade Turkish Bath Company, at $6,000 per annum. Nos. 277 and 279 West 127th street, two four story double flats have been sold by Mrs. C. M.
